1	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> On our web application's search page, the user filtering function is completely broken. For instance, the user does not receive any results when they submit a filter of the trail they wish to walk on. The problem is probably caused by the way the javascript code is being run. Unfortunately, we were unable to resolve the issue, thus we simply removed the user's filtering choice and displayed the list of trails and their data based on the location the user entered. 	High	NPW/Completed the search page without filter option
